

5 DAYS AT SEA IN OPEN BOAT.

Terrible Sufferings Endured by a Shipwrecked Boy.

(Special to The Evening World.)
HALIFAX, N. S., June 27.—Young Samuel Shanks was landed here today from the schooner Alma. He strayed from his vessel and was five days and nights without food and water.
When interviewed by The Evening World correspondent he said: "My hunger was terrible and thirst awful. I took a small quantity of sea water to soften my parched lips, and as much as I would have liked to have drunk the water yet I could not take more than a few mouthfuls."
"After I had been three days on the ocean, tossed about on waves, I felt that I could not stand it much longer. My hands began to swell, and it was with much difficulty that I could handle the oars."
"I became sick and laid down in the boat. Sleep would not come. I suffered terribly during the night from hunger, thirst and exposure. The sea continued in its angry mood. When morning came I was too weak to take the oars and was carried on the swells of the waves. On the afternoon of the fifth day I was picked up and taken to Halifax."

TITLED SHOWMAN IS FOUND DEAD.

Hon. Eric Lascelles Punished Liquor Too Unsparringly.

LONDON, June 27.—Hon. Eric Lascelles, half-brother of the Earl of Harewood, and brother of the Countess of Desart, and Hon. Francis J. Lascelles, now in custody in British Columbia, charged with killing an employee on his ranch, has been found dead in a show-wagon at Cheltenham.
This penniless aristocrat had for some years been exhibiting automatic pictures at country fairs under the name of Eric Leith. When he heard of his brother's trouble, Eric began drinking and died from the effects.
Letters from the Countess of Desart and a London lawyer were found in his pockets, including a remittance and referring to Francis's trouble.

RUDE ARREST FOR THE COUNT

Von Burling Said It Was Vulgar, but He Had to Go to Court.

The Count Von Burling was arrested today. He had a nice-looking horse and a two-wheeled dogcart in Eighty-third street, between Riverside and West End avenue, and when he drove on the sidewalk among nurse girls and children and was placed under arrest by Policeman Wood of the West Sixty-eighth street station, he became very indignant and said his arrest was an outrage.
A number of nurse girls with their small charges were on the shady side of West Eighty-third street shortly after 8 o'clock this morning. The Count came along in his dogcart, and when he saw the policeman, he became very indignant and said his arrest was an outrage.
Nurses and children screamed and began to run. Some of the girls picked up the children and dashed up stoops, while others got their children into areas. The majority ran across the street out of the way.
Policeman Wood heard the cries of the girls and children, and he ran down and seized the Count's horse by the bridle, bringing him to the station-house and made a charge of disorderly conduct against the Count, who protested that it was outrageous that he should be treated so. He was terribly indignant.

TOOK HIS LAST SWIM.

Arthur Auer sank a mile from shore with Rescuers Near.
Arthur Auer swam out almost a mile in Gravesend Bay from Bath Beach this afternoon. Then he was seen to make signals for assistance. A dozen men swam toward him and two boats put out, but he sank before anybody reached him.
Auer got to Bath Beach early in the afternoon with Gerald Glynn, of No. 212 Johnson avenue, Brooklyn, a chance acquaintance. They did not go to a bath-house, but undressed on the beach near Dyker Heights.
The drowned man was about twenty years old. Glynn did not know his address. In a pocket of his coat was found a letter of recommendation signed by the Hayes Machine Company, No. 104-118 West street. The body was not recovered.

HOT AND COLD.

"Is it hot enough for you?" That is what the stranger said. Now he's cold and stiff and blue. Sleeping with the silent dead. —The Chant of the Casket-Maker.

There was one death from the heat today, a woman dropping on the street, and several victims were treated at the various hospitals. Most of them were working people whose occupations kept them very active or forced them to walk the streets, which were like sizzling ovens.
The temperature got up to 90, and while the humidity was moderate, there was little breeze to give relief.
A thunder shower to-night may cool the weather a bit, but continued torrid weather is the official prediction.
There is just one man in town who keeps cool. He is the weather man. He always keeps cool. That's his business. He rather scouted the idea that it was hot to-day. He said he could prove it by a comparison with the figures taken from the weather records at Johannesburg, South Africa. But what's the use? It's too hot to argue.
But while comparisons are odious, it might be just as well to notice how the weather right here at home compares with that of yesterday, especially as we have the figures at hand:
At 8 o'clock yesterday the temperature was 74, and today at the same time it was three degrees hotter. The mercury did not travel so fast in the next hour, but was still a point ahead, this lead being maintained.
At noon it forged ahead, and reached the 80 mark at 2 o'clock.
There was no change in the next hour, the temperature being still at 80. To-day a year ago the mercury touched 91 at 3 o'clock. At 4 o'clock this afternoon it had dropped to 86.
A slight breeze from the southwest had some to partially forget the heat, but little of it was felt on the streets, where the cooling-drinks men were kept busy trying to slake the city's thirst.

SPITTER CAN HAVE ONE SPIT.

Magistrate Pool Says Warning Must Go Before Arrest.

The arrest of Robert H. Hunt, a retired merchant, of No. 51 East Sixty-fifth street, for expostorating on the "L" platform at Third avenue and Sixty-fifth street this morning incensed Magistrate Pool in the Yorkville Court.
Mr. Hunt, who is a dandified old gentleman, and who seemed to think Sanitary Inspector Mangano had only done his duty in taking him to the station, as the inspector came up and arrested him.
"Well, well, well," ejaculated Magistrate Pool when he heard the complaint. "This is getting awful. If this present administration insists on enforcing the law a man may have to carry a cuspidor with him wherever he goes. Did you see any notice not to spit?"
"No, I had no idea I was violating the law."
"You were not warned before you spat?"
"No, sir."
"Under the law a man should be warned before he is arrested for spitting," said the magistrate. "I will send you a warning notice. If you see a cuspidor with him wherever he goes, I will discharge this gentleman, as he was not warned."

BANANO YELLED FIRE.

Then Two Battalions of Firemen Had to Fight Italians.

When Angelico Banana, who sells bananas, turned over a lamp in his home at No. 12 Mulberry street at 3 o'clock this morning he stuck his head out of a third-story window and yelled an alarm loudly.
Some citizen heard the cry and turned in an alarm from the "double" box at the corner of Canal and Baxter streets, which brought seven engines, three trucks, two battalion chiefs, two fire patrols, one searchlight and one water tower to the spot.
The 30 inmates of the six-story building in which the fire had started awarred into the street and were joined by other residents of the locality. The firemen could not get near the scene of the fire because of the frightened Italians.
When the firemen fought their way through the crowds they extinguished the blaze in a hurry. A score of policemen were required to clear Mulberry street so that the firemen could enter the building.

JEROME NOW STOPS TALKING.

Calls Baldwin a Bully Fellow and Is Going on Vacation.

Justice Jerome refused to say anything today concerning his connection with the work of the Committee of Fifteen.
"I am not a student of ancient history," said he. "I am of a hopeful nature. I do not wish to discuss the past. Next Saturday morning I will go in my steam wagon to Lakeville and spend five weeks of a vacation. I ordered three barrels of gasoline and the company sent me ten. So I guess I will have enough supplies for my automobile to keep me interested during that time."
"Have you anything further to say concerning the alleged blackmail in the Health Department?" he was asked.
"I reiterate," said Justice Jerome, "that I am not a student of ancient history."
"What do you think of Mr. Baldwin's statement that the Committee of Fifteen being composed of gentlemen, does not work in the summer time?"
"I want to say right here," said Justice Jerome, "that Baldwin is a bully fellow, and that he is one of the best men to work with that I ever saw. Despite his connection with a big corporation, in a position where pressure might have been brought to bear to influence his action, he has carried himself independent of every influence."

BOY DYING FROM MATE'S BLOW.

Struck in Fun, Clarence Harrison's Skull Was Fractured.

Little Clarence Harrison, the eight-year-old son of Thomas T. Harrison, a keeper in the Kings County penitentiary, is dying at his home, No. 24 Madison street, from the effects of a blow given him by a playmate three weeks ago today.
Dr. Tarts has given up all hope and already a crucifix has been set up by the bedside. The boy is unconscious.
The blow that is killing him was given in play. Clarence was a cripple from babyhood. He was on the street, the day he was hurt playing with "Red" White and Tom Kearney, two neighborhood boys.
"Punch him," said "Red" in June 13 Kearney, and Kearney struck Harrison playfully.
The cripple fell and his head struck on the curbstone. He died badly at the nose, but walked home.
When Dr. Tarts was called in he found that the skull had been fractured and that localized meningitis had set in. No arrests have been made and the Harrison do not wish to punish their boy's playmates.

The trial of the action brought by Mrs. Belle M. Lumley against Julius Caesar Toriello, the leader of a regimental band in the United States Army, terminated today in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for the full amount claimed by her of $1,838.56. The suit was tried before Justice Lovett and a jury in the Supreme Court.
Mrs. Lumley alleged that she met Toriello at Asbury Park in 1892 and their acquaintance continued for several seasons there. Toriello had married her aunt. Mrs. Lumley took a trip to Europe in 1893. Toriello acting as her courier. She claimed that he obtained a bond for $1,000 while they were in Rome, and that she also loaned him other sums.

THINK TROUBLE IS OVER.

Mayor's Reading of the Riot Act Has Good Effect.

(Special to The Evening World.)
ROCHESTER, June 27.—The proclamation issued by Mayor Carnahan, warning all citizens not to engage in acts of violence or to interfere with workmen in any way, has had a good effect, and no fears are expressed now of any further outbreak because of the strike of the laborers engaged on building and street contracts.
While many people were hurt yesterday in the clash between the police and the striking marchers, none of the injured was in danger. The strikers used shovels as weapons and threw sticks, stones and bricks. The police fired one volley over the heads of the rioters, and this ended them.

Mercury AND Potash

Everybody knows that Mercury is a dangerous medicine even when administered in very small doses, and few constitutions can stand it for any length of time. Potash produces inflammation of the stomach and bowels, and a dangerous form of dyspepsia and often chronic diarrhea follow its use.
Now, the doctors will tell you if you have Contagious Blood Poison you must take these minerals for two years or longer; first, a course of Mercury, and when your teeth get so sensitive and sore that you can't eat, and the gums have a spongy, unnatural appearance, you are told to stop and a change to Potash is made. When the stomach rebels you are put on Mercury again, and so on ad infinitum, or until the system becomes so thoroughly saturated with these poisonous drugs that the most disgusting sores break out on the body, the bones become diseased, and the muscles and joints are racked with the most torturing pains. Mercury and Potash drive the eruptions and blotches from the skin, but the virus remains in the blood and the reappearance of the old symptoms and the occasional sore mouth show that the poison is still active, and you can never completely eradicate it by this method of treatment.
S. S. S. is the only antidote for this destructive virus, and an infallible remedy for this peculiar poison. It destroys and eradicates every particle of the poison, and makes the blood as healthy and pure as before the disease was contracted.
When I was about twenty-one years of age, or eighteen years ago, I contracted Blood Poison in a bad form, and am satisfied that the rapid progress the disease was making would soon have made me a life-long invalid or ended my life. As my system came under the influence of S. S. S., the sores, blotches and pimples gradually disappeared and soon no evidence of the disease was left. I am now thirty-nine years old, and have seen no signs of it during the past eighteen years. S. S. S. does all you claim for it. WM. EMERSON, Pevely, Mo.
S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known, and we offer $1.00 for proof that it contains any mineral ingredient whatever. The general health improves as the Specific purges the system of impurities, and as new, rich blood begins to flow in the veins the unsightly sores and other evidences of blood poison disappear; strength returns and you are forever rid of this loathsome disease.
Our Home Treatment Book on Contagious Blood Poison tells you all about the symptoms, the different stages, etc., of this disease. We will mail a copy free. If you need advice or special directions, write our physicians; it will cost you nothing and may hasten your cure. The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.
